IT SCREAMS! Whitesburg, Letcher County, Kentucky, Thursday, August 22, 1963 Vol. 56, No. 15

Wardrup will close

Wardrup Packing Co., Blackey, will close permanently Aug. 28. The shutdown will put 31 persons out of work.

J. B. Hensley, plant manager, said the decision to close was made because of a lack of business. The plant has been losing money, he said, and its owners saw no need to continue losing money indefinitely.

Wardrup Provision Co., Harlan, will continue to operate; it is a general wholesale firm.

The packing plant at Blackey is the only processing plant Wardrup's owned. It handled meat products. Its products were sold in Letcher and Harlan counties and as far away as London and West Liberty.

The Blackey plant opened in 1946. Since that time, both population and the coal business, Letcher County's main industry, have declined considerably.

"The plant is a big operation and there's just not enough business to keep it going," Hensley said.

Hensley said he did not know yet what he himself will do. He indicated he will remain at Blackey to oversee sale of plant machinery and trucks. He said he did not know whether the plant buildings will be sold.

Not all teachers placed

Letcher County Superintendent of Schools Sanford Adams said today a complete list of teachers and their positions in the school system this year will not be available until sometime next week.

Adams said placement of teachers would continue until a day or so after school starts.

"Some teachers don't resign--they just don't show up," he commented.

Letcher Circuit Judge J. L. Hays has been asked to determine whether diesel-powered equipment may be used in Kentucky coal mines.

The Scotia Mining Company, which is developing a large, new coal mine on Cumberland River at Oven Fork in Letcher County, asked Judge Hays to issue an order to the State Department of Mines and Minerals to permit use of diesel equipment.

Logan Patterson, Pineville, an attorney for the Blue Diamond Coal Co., which owns Scotia, indicated to Judge Hays that use of the diesel equipment in place of the customary electrical mining equipment would permit coal to be produced at prices competitive with strip mine coal.

Scotia filed suit in Letcher Circuit Court last week after the Department of Mines and Minerals withdrew a permit for use of diesel equipment previously issued to Scotia.

Patterson said the state agency has not yet explained why the permit was withdrawn. Presumably, the state is questioning the safety of diesel equipment.

Patterson said diesel equipment is safer than electrical equipment underground because it eliminates the danger of fires and explosions caused by electrical sparks and also does away with the danger of electrocution of coal miners.

The equipment, Patterson said, has been approved for safety by the U. S. Bureau of Mines and is in use in every other coal producing state and in many foreign countries.

Patterson said the firm has invested $107,000 in the first order of diesel equipment--a locomotive and two shuttle cars--and plans to spend an additional $200,000.

The firm, he said, will be compelled to lay off 10 to 15 miners already employed and cannot go ahead with the employment of an additional 10 to 15 workers as planned, if it cannot use the diesel machinery, the attorney said.

Joe Richards, general manager of Scotia, said last week it was "our feeling the U.M.W. persuaded the Governor to do this."

Employees of Scotia are members of the Southern Labor Union, a competitor of the United Mine Workers of America.

"This is just another attack on this mine. The (U.M.W.) union's gotten hold of the Governor and told him this and that about the equipment and he hasn't had a chance to hear the other side," Richards said.

Judge Hays had scheduled the case for hearing today but had to postpone action until Sept. 5 after Deputy State Mines Chief Robert Vines told the judge he had been unable to find a lawyer to represent the state at the hearing.

Jenkins gets grant

The federal government announced this week it will give the City of Jenkins $436,170 for construction of a sewer system and sewage treatment plant and will lend it the other $226,240 needed for the project.

The grant was made under the Accelerated Public Works program, and the loan will come from the Community Facilities Administration.

The grant was announced by Rep. Oarl D. Perkins.

Jenkins Mayor Don Hill said the loan will be repaid by fees to be paid by sewer users. Hill estimated the fees would run between $1.50 and $2.50 a month.

Final plans have been completed, and the project will be under way as soon as bids can be taken, Hill said.

The sewer system will serve a total of 1,117 homes in Burdine, Jenkins and Dunham. The treatment plant will be located just inside the east city limits near Burdine.

At present raw sewage from the Jenkins area is dumped into Elkhorn Creek, which drains into the Big Sandy River.

Football season opens here Friday

Fleming and Whitesburg will open the 1963 football season in Letcher County when they meet Friday night at the Whitesburg field.

This week in Whitesburg

Whitesburg Junior Homemakers held their August meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Frank Carrello. The group discussed plans for a booth to be operated at the Letcher County Fair next month.

Mrs. Marjorie Gabbard, new county home demonstration agent, suggested several projects for future work.

Members present included Mrs. Bill Combs, Mrs. Billy Paul Collins, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Glen Ison, Mrs. Emery Lewis, Mrs. Herbert Caudill, Mrs. Frank Marjorie, Jr., Mrs. Frank Carrello and guests Mrs. Ivan Hall of Louisville and Mrs. Blackburn.

Mrs. and Mrs. Owen Wright and Myra Alice spent a week at Lake Cumberland, and while there they attended a reunion of the J. M. Brewer family, who are the kin of Mrs. Wright. Owen Wayne Wright of Lexington and his wife joined them at the lake.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hale were his only sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hensley of Tulsa, Okla. The Hensleys went on to visit a daughter in New York City before returning home.

Wilgus Bowen was in Bristol, Tenn., Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins spent several days in Detroit, Mich., where they attended the annual meeting of the Northern New Salem Association of Regular Baptists and visited points of interest in Canada.

Mrs. Fred Luigart will be unable to teach dancing classes this year in either Whitesburg or Hazard because of personal reasons.

Terry Lynn and Kathy Collins of Ypsilanti, Mich., are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Paul Collins and family. The girls are visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Collins.

Mrs. Jack Passmore and daughter Carol Francis spent a day recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Jenkins.

Luther King is in fair condition after chest surgery in Knoxville, Tenn., and Memorial Hospital here. He will enter Memorial Hospital Aug. 29 for further treatment and probably more surgery.

The V. D. Picklesimers have returned home after a visit with their son, Dr. M. L. Picklesimer, in Knoxville, Tenn. While there they saw the "Holiday on Ice" show at the Coliseum, which they reported was much better than when they last saw it in 1945.

Mrs. Herbert Smith, along with her seven children and her mother, Mrs. Sally Ison, drove to Knoxville Thursday to see the premiere showing of "Holiday on Ice." The show, which starts in Knoxville, will be shown in every major city of the United States and on television. Even eight-month-old Mary Ann was entranced, her family reported.

Glenn and Glendora Ison vacationed three days last week in the Great Smoky Mountains before Glenn had to leave Sunday for Louisville, where he will attend classes sponsored by his employer, Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Mrs. Bill Fields has returned home after visiting her doctor and daughters in Louisville.

The four circles of the First Baptist Church met Aug. 19 in the homes of the following hostesses: Mrs. Ralph Frazier with Mrs. Maurice Lewis as leader of the program; Mrs. Smith Setzer with Mrs. V. D. Picklesimer as leader; Mrs. John Nease with Bonnie Griffe as leader, and Miss Janice Reese, who lives at the home of Mrs. N. M. Webb, with Mrs. Jack Cox as leader. Each circle had the same program, which was on sharing possessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Astor Hogg visited relatives in town over the week end.

Marty Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lewis, who is employed with the Citizens Union Bank in Lexington, was home for the week end.

Miss Ann Lewis returned from Lexington last week with friends Miss Rosemary Collier and Sue Ann Page, who visited with Ann and other friends for a few days.

Mrs. Jerry Montgomery and daughter Becky were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Burley Hale last week. Her husband came Friday with their grandson, and they all returned to Lexington Sunday.

Mrs. Sam Collins and Mrs. Owen Hitt left Sunday for a tour of North Carolina and the South.

Rowe seeks release

Circuit Judge J. L. Hays has postponed until Sept. 4 a hearing on a request for a writ of habeas corpus filed this week by Edwin Daryl Rowe of Partridge.

Rowe is being held without bail in the Pike County jail. He is charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Sam J. Bates at Blair Lake on July 30. He waived examining trial and was held to the October grand jury.

His attorney, F. Byrd Hogg, has appealed Judge Hays' ruling postponing the hearing to the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Rowe is seeking the writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he is being held illegally without bail. His petition said that his attorney, Hogg, left on vacation before the time of Rowe's examining trial. But, the petition said, Hogg spoke before he left with Commonwealth's attorney Emmett Fields and Fields agreed that the offense with which Rowe was charged was bailable and that bond would be set at $10,000. Then, the petition said, County Judge James M. Caudill, who presided at the examining trial, ordered Rowe held without bail on the recommendation of Fields.

The commonwealth was represented by County Attorney Stanley Hogg when the motion for a writ of habeas corpus came up for a hearing before Judge Hays Tuesday, because Fields now is away on vacation.

Stanley Hogg argued that Fields made no agreement about bail, that Fields' notes on the investigation he made into the shooting are not available since he is away and that the hearing should be delayed.

As I remember . . . by Alfred Adams

A tall tale of ox tails

Sarah said, "Alfred, what are you going to write about this week?"

I said, "I am not going to write about anything."

She said, "Alfred, get your pen and get to writing--I have not been able to get out and gather up the news this week, and we just cannot afford to let our readers down."

It is a sight on earth how that woman tries to boss me around. She is as stubborn as an ox.

By the way, what has become of the old ox? We could not make our younger generation believe what we have seen the old oxen do over these hills and mountains. I suppose most of the virgin timber was hauled out of these hills by oxen. I remember when I was a teen-ager boy seeing a great boundary of timber, perhaps thousands of big trees, cut and hauled to the mill by oxen. Sometimes the logs would be so large that it would take three or four yoke of oxen to pull one log to the mill. Today we have our skilled track drivers, tractor and bulldozer operators, etc. But who would start out with a yoke of old slow oxen up some hollow, maybe to the top of the mountain, to haul logs day in and day out?

In my mind I can still see the old-time ox driver as he would beat the ox so unmercifully. I remember how the old oxen would lean their backs together as they would dig their feet into the earth and pull with every ounce of strength in their bodies.

Upon one occasion I saw a poor old ox being beaten while he was pulling every pound he could pull, and the old fellow just lay down and died. We would think the good Lord had mercy on him and took him out of his misery. I am glad our younger generation cannot be a witness to such cruelty.

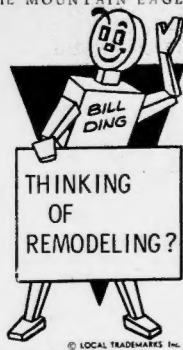

I still have the little yoke my father made for me about 44 years ago to break a yoke of calves with. I remember how I would place the yoke in its right position across the top of their necks, hook them to a pole and start out. I would yell, "Back-gee" and "Come here," but the rascals would not pay me any attention. They would twist their hind ends around and fall over top of each other and wind up with their yoke underneath their necks instead of on top where it should be.

One day somebody came along and told me if I would tie their tails together it would hold their hind ends together and they would be easy to handle. Well, I got me a very strong cord and I tied their tails so tight that lightning could not break them apart.

The old off-steer, I called "Ike," and the leader, I called "Jake." I hooked them to a pole and I laid the lash to them--just as I had seen Ed Polly do when he was hauling logs. I thought since I had tied their tails so securely that I was a real ox-driver. Old Ike, he jumped about 10 feet--nearly broke poor old Jake's neck. The pole swamped me around the legs and knocked me down.

When I looked up Old Ike had gotten his head loose from the yoke and was heading one way, and Jake was heading the other--with their tails still tied together tighter than Dick's hat band. Good lordy mighty, what a mess I was in--old Ike jerked his tail clean out by the roots, and that ended my days as an ox-driver.

CROPS ALMOST HARVESTED, WINTER AWAITED--AND MEMORY OF BIRCH SAP SWEETER THAN ACTUALITY

By MABEL KISER

Well, the harvest is almost over, our coal bins are full, and now we are just waiting for the winter snow.

Years ago we had very little for entertainment--no radio, no TV, no movies, but we country children had our own ways of having fun, and one of them was birch sapping. We would roam the hills and find a large birch tree, peel the bark from the trunk of the tree and scrape the inside of the bark with a spoon. It was sweet nectar, but sometimes I think the very juiciness of childhood was the flavor, for last week I tasted some birch sap and it was not nearly so good as it was 40 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Franklin and son Donnie, Mrs. Iva Lou Franklin and son Randy have all been in for a visit with the Ben Franklins. Iva Lou and Randy were visiting the Rannel Maggards of Colson, her parents. Mrs. Franklin was so glad to have her children, for after 40 years of cooking it is nice to have our children come in and cook for us.

I was so very glad to see my good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Craft of Springfield, Ohio, but sorry of the tragic accident to Mr. Craft's brother. I was surprised to find their younger daughter Jane so grown up. Isn't it surprising how fast they do grow up nowadays?

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meade and children of Cleveland have been in for a vacation and for a visit with their parents, the Joe Profits and the Aus Meades. The only highlights in the lives of us oldsters are visits from our gone-away children.

Mrs. Hattie Profit, Colson, almost 74, helped me harvest my garden last week. I felt ashamed to tell her she like to have worked me to death!

Mrs. Delzia Collins of Springfield, Ohio, has been in Letcher for a visit with her friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Sumpter (Dot) have been in from Indiana for a visit with her parents, the Paul Lariks.

I was very pleased to meet my old friends the Robert Gattons in Whitesburg Monday. When we meet our friends the world seems just a little brighter, the load a little lighter, our hopes and faith a little stronger.

Congratulations to Miss Louise Sexton, a licensed practical nurse, who began work at the Whitesburg Memorial Hospital on Monday.

Jack Wise Collins has been in Letcher County working this week and he had his son Terry with him. Terry had an enjoyable visit with grandma and grandpa Claude Collins and the Alvin Amburgeys, of Pine Mountain Junction.

Mrs. T. R. (Bertha) Collier of Thomson, who has been very ill for some time, was taken to the hospital in Lexington for treatment.

Sunday night supper guests of the Edd Tollivens were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Collins.

Remember Mrs. Fess Combs, formerly of Millstone? It was nice to see Mrs. Combs last week and find her looking so well.

She has been living at Vicco for the past several years, since Mr. Combs died. She tells me she is planning to visit Indiana this month and may buy a home up there.

The man who said there was no such thing as perpetual motion had never tried tending to a little boy.

Whatever June bugs are good for we will not have this year, for there were no June bugs at all. But watch out for the sand homet. I don't know what they thrive on, but they never die out and their sting is very painful.

Friends of Mrs. Alpha Reynolds will be glad to see her home after being in Memorial Hospital. Among those in to see her were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds and Mrs. Eunice Meade.

Billy Bentley, his wife Linda and son Billy are home from two weeks in Cleveland, where Bill was in the active reserve. Little Billy and his mother visited relatives in Cleveland, where Billy fell out of bed and broke his collar bone. He is fine now.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Holbrook, Detroit, have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Ula Smith, Seco. Mrs. Holbrook is the former Loraine Smith.

I was so very glad to have my mother with me this week and find her so much improved after a long sick spell. She is able to keep house now.

I was pleased to receive a call Saturday afternoon from my friend, Mrs. Will York. She and Mr. York were in from Bristol to visit their children, Elmo, Lee, George and Ralph York, in our county.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trail of Bristol were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James (Cotton) Hoskins. While here they visited the grave of their father in the family cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis and children of Cincinnati were the week end guests of her parents, the Ish Everidges.

The next best thing to a visit to our good friends is to have them visit each other. Mr. and Mrs. Delzia Bowen, Carr Creek, have been visiting his youngest daughter, Dene, in Portsmouth, while there they called on some former Millstones, the Elijah Colliers, and some of their children. They report a wonderful time and enjoyed finding everyone living so well.

Mrs. Caroline Hall is very ill again.

Aunt Hattie Profit has been very sick but is much improved.

Mrs. L. C. King of Pine Mountain has returned home after visiting in Detroit. She attended the wedding of her grandson, Edward King, to Miss Charlie Smith of Pikeville. Edward is the only son of Arlie and Thursa Kiser King. He is in the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. William (Preacher) Newsome left Sunday for an extended visit with their twin daughters in Louisville.

News left over last week:

Elbert Bentley, the soldier son of the B. F. Bentleys of Neon Junction, called his parents to say he is much improved after surgery in the hospital where he is stationed in Labrador.

Recent dinner guests of the Enoch Bentleys were Mrs. Rachel Justice, Mrs. Percy Phillips, Elsie Bentley and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bentley. The Elmer Bentleys had not been to Letcher for several years. He is the son of the late Caledonia Bentley and lives in Baltimore.

Bill Williams, son-in-law of the Sam Halla, is very ill in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, where he underwent surgery.

Billy Wayne King and his wife, now living in Detroit, are parents of a son, Gary Wayne, their first child.

Guests of Mrs. L. L. Johnson were her sister, Mrs. Monroe Collier (Cledis), Hemphill, and her daughter Mrs. Bill Baker and children, Teresa and Rocky, of Jackson.

The annual picnic for Kentuckians in Detroit will be held Sept. 15 at New Liberty Park on Broadway. Anyone from Letcher County desiring information may contact Mrs. Bill Blair Jr. at KE 7-8656, or any county not listed call J. Otto Carrico, LO 5-3718. I have the names and addresses and telephone numbers of all the officers of 29 counties listed. If you are interested call 855-7802, and I'll be glad to give them to you. Mrs. Jane Baker is still better.

THINGS IN NEIGHBORHOOD APPEAR BETTER THIS WEEK, AND RESIDENTS KEEPING FINGERS CROSSED

By MRS. JIM REEVES

Things are looking up for the folks around Fleming and Neon this week. There is not so much sickness. We will keep our fingers crossed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tolliver of St. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brummett of Shelbyville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Collins on Kentucky River and Jeffrey Collins of Lexington has been visiting his cousin Brenda Collins.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Ben Robinson fell at her home in Neon Wednesday afternoon, and pulled some muscles in her arm.

We want to welcome the Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Mangold as the new pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Neon.

Visiting with Mrs. Ben Robinson was Mrs. M. A. Mangold and Jeri Quillen.

Mrs. Everett Howell of McRoberts has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Pete Barney, who is in the Louisville Baptist hospital. Mrs. Barney formerly lived in Neon and Jenkins.

Mr. Daniel Smith of Whitaker has had to have surgery. He is in a hospital in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gooch and Relynda of Pontiac, Mich., have been visiting his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. B. Gooch of Neon.

While here they all went to Waynesburg to attend the first family reunion. There were 79 persons, all relatives, present. Some of the others present included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gooch and Mark and Brian of Neon; and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McMillen and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ford Hall of Livonia started down in a new car but something went wrong with it and they had to stop in Lexington, where they visited a cousin.

Also visiting the Gooches were another son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gooch and Cheryl and Lisa of Pontiac, Mich. Before coming home the Vernon Gooches drove to Pontiac, Mich., and visited Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Nysten, who took them all on a sight seeing trip of the copper mining region of Lake Superior. They reported it as being beautiful, and said the Nystens are wonderful people to visit. Coming back they drove down through Wisconsin and have been here since Thursday visiting. We are sorry to hear their father, Judge Gooch, had to be put in the Jenkins hospital Friday and is still there.

Mrs. Bill Burchwell and son Jimmy of Pontiac, Mich., have been down for a few days visiting friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foster and Anthony of Louisville have been home visiting friends and relatives. We certainly did enjoy watching two-year-old Anthony directing Mitch Miller's band.

Mr. Conrad Burns of Dayton, Ohio, has come home for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Dora Burns. Little Emezzette Meade was home again this week end for a visit. Doctors say it won't be long now until she can come home to stay.

It was nice to see Lt. Col. C. L. Hounshell. He bought his parents a new TV set while he was here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins and Mrs. George Brown attended the Maple Grove Church on the head of Cumberland Sunday while Mr. and Mrs. Winston Sturgill were baptised. During the meeting Mr. Sturgill's parents joined church and will be baptised at the next meeting. After church about 75 persons went to the home of Mr. Winston Sturgill where they had dinner on the lawn. After dinner there were more preaching and prayer services. Next Sunday church will be held at Oven Fork and there will be dinner on the ground.

Glad to hear that Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman are back home in Neon after spending the summer in Indiana.

Mrs. Dishman Hall has been confined to her home in Neon for a week because of illness.

Mr. Jack Craft of Neon had to be taken to the Jenkins Hospital Sunday and is still there.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Granville Dagnan for a get-together and a game of rook Saturday night were

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Green of Falls Church, Va; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Green of Davton, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Conley Webb of Neon. Elmer and Herschel Greene are brothers of Mrs. Dagnan.

Sunday the family of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Dagnan enjoyed a picnic at the Breaks of the Mountains. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dagnan; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Greene and Tessie and Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Greene and Larry and Jerry.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Darrell Collins of Plymouth, Mich., have returned home after spending three weeks with their parents. On their way home they stopped in Southshore, Ky., at sister Moselle's house and spent the night with Mrs. Collins' aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Smith in Bainbridge, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Davidson, Jr., had a cookout at their home recently. Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Sam Quillen and Leslie Ann; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Davidson, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kincer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie Davidson, Jr., spent a couple of days at their cabin on Lake Cumberland recently, and while there purchased a new boat. Visiting them at the lake were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davidson of Red Fox and Marbeth and Woody; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Davidson, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of Fort Thomas.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kincer were Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Pierce and Pam; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kincer of Cromona and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ables and Sammy and Gay of Cincinnati. The Ed Kincers drove Sammy and Gay back to Cincinnati.

Mr. Bill Preston drove to Iowa for a week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Bentley were in Dayton, Ohio, visiting

HERE'S MORE NEWS ABOUT RESIDENTS OF MILLSTONE AREA

Hollis Reynolds of Louisville as up this week to see his mother, who is ill at Memorial hospital. Mrs. Reynolds is very little improved, but seeing her only child was of great comfort. Mr. and Mrs. Chanucy Craft and son of California have been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Maudie Craft Hoskins, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCray and children, Billy Wayne, Kathy and Sammy have been up from Irvine to see his parents, the Esley McCrays, who have just moved back from Tennessee. Bill is employed at the Irvine Lumbering plant by South-East. Construction work on the lake in Kentucky River has begun. They are cutting trees to begin the concrete work for the lake.

A crew is pouring cement in all reaches in the earth where water may seep through.

The C. B. Passes visited friends in Memorial Hospital.

The Army is sending soldier James (Jimmy) Robinson back to the United States from Alaska to attend college. He will attend Forehead College because it is near home. His wife is the former Judy Pass.

Bennie Craft, 56, one of 17 children of the late Elder A. C. Craft, died Aug. 7 in Memorial Hospital from injuries received in a mine accident a week earlier. Bennie's mother was the late Percy Adkins Craft. His wife was the former Pebble Taylor, daughter of Willie and Mason Taylor, Haymond. They had four children, Mrs. Charles Blair, Batesville, Ind.; Ronald Craft, in the Air Force in Florida; Eddie Craft, Columbus, Ind.; and Larry Craft, at home.

His funeral was conducted in the Sandlick Church Monday, Aug. 9, by Elders Curt Caudill, Dewey Comett and Troy Shepherd. Burial was in the family lot at the mouth of Sandlick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of Elkton, Md., were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gish at Cromona.

James Earl Boggs went fishing in the Barlow Lake last week and caught a 19-pound, 34-inch sh. This is some fish for our fishing ponds around here, but it puts to shame our long trip fishermen.

I had been taking my neighbor, Mrs. Aggie Bentley, bad news about her ill mother this month, but last week the telephone rang and I received good news for her mother, Mrs. Caroline Hall, was much better, and her brother, Joe Hall, whom she hadn't seen in 12 years, was in from his home in New York. Joe married a girl in New York; he is just for the folks around the race track in New York and is a perfect cook, which he proved to the family by cooking them a good dinner. His brothers and sisters gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Hampton (Judy). Among those to attend were Mrs. Aggie Bentley, Mrs. Melvin Cook (Anne), Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Combs (Ethel), Carr Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hall, McRoberts; all the children were there but my; his wife had undergone surgery and was unable to come. He stayed with her. Joe looks fine; he had picked up a little weight—he now tips the scales at 200 pounds.

Mrs. Stella Webb of Mayking had all her children in for a visit last week for the first time in seven years. There were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Collins and children Ralph, Kathy and Chuck; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Webb and sons, Ralph Jr. and Gilly Watson; Plymouth, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blair and children, Charles and Sheila, Louvenia, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Webb and son Jimmy, Dover, N.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Sexton and son Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Brock Webb and children Kakhli, Roberta and Gilly, Neon, and Eugene, who lives with his mother. They were all there. Kakhli's husband, who is in the Army at Fort Knox, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Holbrook and Miss Martha Porter attended church at McRoberts and the baptism of Uncle Zack Bentley, who is in his late eighties. After services they had dinner with friends at the home of Sherman Wright. Their brother, E. C. Porter, had dinner with the Jess Hollyfields, McRoberts. The Holbrooks went to Camp Branch to pay their respects to the Bennie Craft family; they met many old friends of the Craft family they hadn't seen in years. The J. S. Holbrooks are well liked and when folks move far away they are always glad to see them when they come back home.

Sunday dinner guests of the Lloyd Meades were Mrs. Edna Bentley Grimes and Mr. Meade's brother, Columbus Meade. Mrs. Grimes spent Sunday night with her aunt, Mrs. Bessie Meade.

Mrs. Willie P. Webb, Sergeant, fell and broke a bone in her foot some time ago.

We were so sorry to learn of the illness of little Eddie Bentley, son of the D. V. Bentleys. Eddie has had pneumonia fever and has been in Memorial Hospital.

Calling to see him were Mrs. Bobby Johnson and son Terry, Mrs. Sonny Cook and Gloria, and Mrs. Edd Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Bentley entertained Mr. Bentley's intermediate Sunday School class and their parents at their home Friday night. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Broome and Kenny and Gary, Fleming; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meade and daughters Linda and Teresa, Mrs. Mildred Burke and Judy and Frankie Hampton, McRoberts; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sexton, Ronnie and Betty, Neon; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pass and Becky, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bentley and Sharon.

Jimmy Bentley, soldier from Fort Knox, was a welcome visitor at the home of his parents on Millstone.

Bobby Howard McElroy and his wife Harriet were in from Cleveland for a visit with his parents, the Wood McElroys. Larry McElroy came back to enter high school this fall.

We were all glad to see a former Millstone and his family in from Bedford, Ind. — Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sergeant and daughters

Dora Jane and Janice and a married daughter, Mrs. Virginia Lopoli and her four sons, Tony, Tammy, Todd and Timmy of Conda, Idaho. They were visiting with a daughter, Mrs. Doug Lundy (Thelma) and other relatives. This was the first time Mrs. Lopoli had been here since her marriage. A son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sergeant Jr., Judy, Craig and Margery Lou of Jeffersonville, Ind., also were visiting with the Sergeants.

Visiting the Isom Sergeants for a week end were Mr. and Mrs. George Hensley, Louisville, Mrs. Hensley is the former Mary Collier.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams are the parents of twins, a boy and a girl, Michael Ray and Michelle Kay. Mrs. Williams is the former Brenda Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Buster) Taylor. The twins are their first children.

The Bruce Rudd family had a family reunion recently. There were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Spangler, Raymond (Buster) Taylor, Mrs. Ray Williams and twins, Eddie Wayne Taylor, Mrs. Jewel Hooper and daughter, Mrs. Lois Evelyn Burchett, Paintsville. This was the first time Mrs. Hooper had been home in more than a year.

I enjoyed very much meeting my Florida friends, the John Stallards. Through the paper I have met so many nice people, and I love people and love to talk to them. I am glad so many of you like The Mountain Eagle.

Patrick Back dies in Portsmouth, Ohio

Patrick Back, 74, a native of Letcher County, died in a Portsmouth Ohio, hospital on August 17.

He was survived by nine children, including seven sons and two daughters.

Funeral services were held August 19 at Providence Regular Baptist Church, with Moore & Craft Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Floyd Cook succumbs after long illness

Floyd Cook, 80, Whitesburg, died at his residence on August 16.

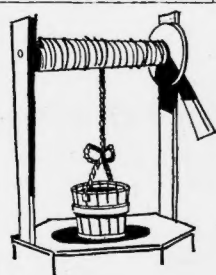

Funeral services were conducted August 19 at the Democrat Church, Democrat, by the Revs. Robert Martin and Dave Binks. Burial was in the Bentley Cemetery, Rockhouse, near Deane.

Cook was survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Richardson Cook, and by seven children — Lola Sargent, Bedford, Indiana; John Cook, Jackson, Louis Cook, Whitesburg; Landon Cook, Whitesburg; Ruth Martin, Democrat; Ted Cook, Lexington, and Amos Cook, Tiffin, Ohio.

Other survivors included eight brothers and sisters — W. E. Cook, Lexington; Anna Bentley, Cromona; Sarah Hall, McRoberts; Lizzie Stapleton, Phoenix, Arizona; Lottie Bentley, Louisville; Henry Cook, Tennessee; Ritter Sergeant, Tennessee, and Herbert Cook, of Whitesburg.

Cook had been ill for seven years. Moore & Craft Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

her family for a week. Sorry to hear that Mrs. Frieda Wise is on the sick list this week. Mr. and Mrs. Lilburn Mullins and sons have returned to their home in Pontiac, Mich., after a two-week visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Fuller, Sheree and Debbie from Ashville, N. C. have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate Wright of Fleming, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Day of Cronoma. Sheree and Debbie stayed with the Days for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hill and Ernestine of Fleming spent a week in Sciotoville, O., visiting his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hinton.

Little Kathy Wright is sick this week - she has a big boil on her leg.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hawley, Mr. Willis Hawley and Seena Dee, and Mrs. Charles Hawley went to Oak Ridge, Tenn., to see their mother, Mrs. Goldie Hawley, who had to have one leg amputated and will have to have surgery on the other leg before coming home. The children said she was doing fine, sitting up in a wheel chair. Her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Armistage, came from North Carolina and brought Debbie Hawley who had been with her since the death of her mother, so she got to see her father and sister.

Linda Carol Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Adams spent the week end with her great grandmother, Mrs. Nelson Gibson, and her great aunt, Mrs. Rachel Frost, and her cousin, Sue Ellen Frost, all of Little Cowan. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Adams, Phillip and Michell drove down and all the family had dinner with the Gibsons. Mrs. Gibson is Mr. Adams' grandmother.

Mrs. Essie Quillen was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Jones after church Sunday, and spent the afternoon with them.

Recent visits of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Howell was Mrs. Howell's mother, Mrs. Jerry Quillen, formerly of Neon, who now lives in New Orleans. She visited other friends and relatives while here.

Mrs. Eddie Wright of Fleming and Mrs. Nadine Youngblood of Neon went to Norfolk to visit Miss Wright's brother, John Wright, who is ill.

A fire was reported at the home of Hagan Osborne but the Neon fire department put it out before any damage was done.

Word has just come that Mrs. Bertha Collier, whom I wrote about earlier, died at her home in Thornton at 1:30 Tuesday morning. We certainly were sorry to hear about this.

Mrs. Kelly Riddle is taking a week vacation from the post office in Neon.

WESS BANKS CHILDREN COME HOME FOR VACATION VISIT WITH PARENTS

By FRED HUGHES

Mr. and Mrs. Wess Banks' children are home for a two-week vacation. They include Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Banks and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams and children, Mrs. Vernie Williams and Charlie Banks, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Banks and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hughes' son Jerry and his family from Fort Worth, Texas, have returned to Texas after a two weeks vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Curt Cornett also visited here.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Day from Indiana visited Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Banks.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Banks have moved to Paintsville where Mr. Banks is going to school.

We are glad that Mr. E. C. Blair is getting better. His sister Maudie from London has been visiting him.

Mrs. Dockie Cornett is back home from the Whitesburg hospital, and is improving.

Mr. Leonard Boatright and wife are back home from Detroit.

Miss Josephine Banks visited Mrs. Hester Banks this week.

Mr. Elmer Cook was visiting his family this week end. He is working in Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Ervin Hampton has been on the sick list for about two weeks but is some better.

Fred Hughes was taking pictures of all the post office employees this week. He said he was making a collection of funny pictures.

He was sorry Ben and Jim weren't there.

I was reading this week where a school teacher asked a little boy what happened when two cars ran together and he said a lot of people came out to look at them.
